

History is past.

When the sentence ends

We begin again.

Every year, thousands of men and women earn their release from prison. Outside, they're told, is the chance to begin again; to leave their past sins behind and find new purpose in their lives.

Studies show that one of the most important factors in the rehabilitation of a person with a criminal history is the responsibility of a fulltime job. Yet, for most of them the promise of employment is out of reach.

Don't let a criminal history keep you from hiring the best person for a job. History is past. When the sentence ends, we begin again.
